

Tudor Building Spotter Sheet

Where are you visiting today? _____

Can you spot:

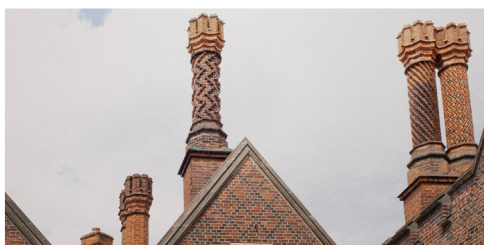

Timber (wooden) frames ☐

White walls ☐

Zig-zag brick work ☐

Tall Chimneys ☐

Wonky or uneven buildings ☐

If you see these features, they might be clues that you've found a Tudor building.

But remember:

Other buildings might have these features too, and buildings change over time!

Did you know?

The white walls are often made of Wattle and Daub, woven sticks covered in mud or dung.

Did you know?

Many Tudor buildings were made of wood and were destroyed in fires, like the Great Fire of London.
