HISTORY OF AFTERNOON TEA

Prior to the introduction of high tea into Britain, the English had two main meals; breakfast and dinner. This didn't suit The Duchess of Bedford, Anna Maria Stanhope (1783-1857). The Duchess, one of Queen Victoria's ladies-in-waiting, suffered from 'a sinking feeling' at about four o'clock in the afternoon. At first, the Duchess had her servants sneak her a pot of tea and a few bread stuffs, but then began inviting friends to join her at five o'clock in her rooms at Woburn Abbey.

The menu centred around small cakes, bread and butter sandwiches, assorted sweets and, of course, tea. The summer practice proved so popular that the Duchess continued it when she returned to London and high tea was quickly picked up by other social hostesses.
